

Dear << Formal Title of Senator/MP>>,

I am writing to you today to bring light to an urgent issue affecting many Australians including myself. << high-level summary of your age, gender, family situation, and brief details of your injury. Include the most debilitating details and the things that have been the hardest to deal with for you personally. Be emotive but keep this short, if possible, no more than two or three paragraphs>>.

I am asking for your proactive attention and support in the following areas: <<what are the top 2 or 3 areas you would like them to help with, some examples include:

1. Financial support

- a. The Covid-19 Vaccine Claims Scheme – do you qualify? If not, why not, what would you want to change about this scheme if you could?
- b. Workers Compensation issues – have you had issues with your worker's compensation claim, if so, what were they?
- c. Disability support

2. Health services specific to your needs

- a. Are there specific treatments or tests that you would like to have but are unable to due to costs/availability or another constraint
- b. Are there specific care requirements you have that you would like assistance with

3. Research and Education

- a. Ask for government attention to be focussed on creating knowledge and awareness of the scope of vaccine injury through adequately funded research, doctor education programs and the creation of adverse reaction advisory groups or centres.

4. Initiate and participate in positive Parliamentary debate on vaccine injuries

- a. Ask them to ensure that any debate around vaccine injury is treated with respect and compassion.

5. Ask a Parliamentary question about the vaccine-injured

- a. Is there a particular question or questions you would like the member to raise in parliament? These questions are kept on record and are a good way of raising pertinent issues about specific topics >>

I look forward to hearing from you with details on what action you have taken or are planning to take to address these issues.

Yours sincerely,
